the best scientific apparatus

You are attending high school at a time when the social pattern of the world about you is being rapidly changed by the irresistible push of progress.

The significant advance of scientific progress has given us rockets, guided missiles, and ships with which to master space, and the atomic submarine to control the sea lanes.

Laboratory research has given us scientific safeguards for better health and more dependable control for many of the dreaded diseases of mankind. Much of the natural environment now has been conquered.

This progress in science has been a contributing factor in helping the United States to reach its present position of world leadership.

Our schools have aided greatly in this scientific program by helping students to develop an inquiring mind which some people say is the most important apparatus in any scientific investigation.

Keep your curiosity active.

LEON FRIEL Vice Principal

our head technicians

This past year the advisers in John Marshall, as in a laboratory, guided all production that favored progress. These advisers discovered and directed the interests and abilities of each student, considering always the need of the student and of society. Their tasks were arduous but they gave of themselves in service for the advancement and development of each student.

mathematics department

During the past year the math department offered a great variety of courses. They included eighth grade math, elementary through advanced algebra, plane geometry and solid geometry, and trigonometry. Marshall was fortunate to have an excellent teaching staff to guide the students.

science department

Offered in the many branches of science this year were physics, earth science, chemistry, and biology, which kept our research scientists busy in their classrooms learning Archimede's principle of bouyancy and Darwin's theory of evolution. Experimenting with modern equipment at their own desks gave students practical and useful experience in these fields.

language department

Pupils in classes of Spanish and French used recordings by native speakers to accompany their textbook reading lessons. During their free time they listened to the disks in order to improve their pronunciation of the foreign language.

Various types of sound films in Spanish and French were shown for the first time this year. Films narrated in English emphasized some of the values of Latin and modern foreign languages.

the history department

This year the social studies department devoted considerable time to the current national and international scene. This factor in the curriculum prepared the students to be better citizens, a chief concern of our school. Along with the history of the past, the curriculum helped all the students to be more intelligent toward national and world problems and thus not only become citizens of the United States but citizens of the world.

general education

The home economics classes this year studied family relations and discussed the requirements of ideal family life. The planning of nutritious meals and the actual preparation of meals formed a part of the course. Food and clothing budgets were considered as well as rules for intellligent buying.

experimental stations

Many courses in business education were offered this year to our future secretaries. Typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and business law were available. These provided a foundation which many people tested in co-operative courses or in office practice. By serving as student secretaries or student messengers, others gained experience in the business field.

practical arts

The practical arts classes in our school were not only for fundamental training in a certain craft or for the fun of it, but students were taught how to think in an organized manner and how to co-operate on the job.

Three of the boys, Louis Acierno, Benjamin Lucitti, and Ronald Morales, won certificates and cash awards for their achievements in metal shop from the Ford Motor Company.

art department

In the art department the students were taught to express themselves in their favorite media. By supplying pupils with brushes, paints, and helpful guidance, the prospective artists not only improved their drawing skill but enjoyed the experience. Some of the projects this year were posters for the various campaigns, art work for the Scholastic Art Exhibit, photograms and sketches for the yearbook.

voice class

Under the direction of Mr. Singleton, vocal training was made available for perfecting solo work. Through the use of vocal exercises, proper control of the breathing muscles, and recording facilities, the singers developed poise and personality plus a well-rounded repertoire.

the library

The John Marshall library is one of the most important rooms in the building. It served this year not only as a material and reading center, but also as a guidance and teaching agency. This year, with the help of the new librarian, Miss Hilfiker, and her assistant, Mrs. Uderitz, the students aided in administering and running the library by establishing a Senior Advisory Board and a corps of library aides.

Each day the lunchroom staff served us tempting hot lunches to satisfy all hearty appetites. They also prepared delicious dishes for many parties, banquets and teas.

Something new was added this year to the variety of offerings at John Marshall High School; a one-semester course, Senior Problems, was begun to help seniors to make a smooth transfer from high school to college or to a job. The course was divided into three sections of six weeks each and covered content and skills needed in mathematics, economics, and college or job orientation.

The executive council this year was composed of fourteen members. Five commissioners, five grade representatives, and the four elected Student Association officers who acted as officers of the council. The council's objective was to keep Marshall High on the list of prominent high schools. It succeeded to accomplish this by proclaiming a courtesy month, by developing school athletic morale, by providing dances after night basketball games, and securing a more balanced school activity program.

The National Honor Society, a nation wide honorary organization of high school students, bases its membership on scholarship, leadership, service, and character. The John Marshall chapter, headed by Miss Mayo, elected this year about thirty students from the junior and senior classes on the basis of these qualities. Membership in the Society was restricted scholastically to the top five per cent of the junior class and the top fifteen percent of the senior class.

The law making body of our representative government, the legislature, was composed of an elected representative and alternate from each homeroom. The chairman was Bob Bock, Vice-President of the Students' Association. He was under the able guidance of Mr. Goetz and Miss Turula. Meetings were held periodically and each representative reported to the homeroom the activities of the legislature. Representatives took charge of the Students' Association drive, the sale of the John Quill, the Memorial Scholarship Fund, the March of Dimes drive, and the Red Cross drive.

Rating blanks were filled out by the pupils after each marking period. These blanks were collected and checked by a chosen student in each homeroom called the rating clerk. This was just part of his job. He arranged the blanks according to rank, found the median, and reported the five highest students in his homeroom to his teacher. Later these reports were turned in to Mrs. Olmstead who directed all procedures.

banking clerks

The idea of school saving has gone far since its origin in France in the year 1834. It came to the United States in 1887 and to Rochester in 1915. This year our crew of 42 homeroom banking clerks, with the assistance of Mr. Pflaum, tried to do their share to fill the armored car which arrived regularly every Monday morning.

dramatics

The theater arts enjoyed by Marshall's sons and daughters of Thespis, included pantomime, voice, characterization, setting, costuming, make-up, and production. This variety of talents was utilized in student assemblies, and in the plays which the dramatics class presented for education and enjoyment.

the radio workshop

The John Marshall Radio Workshop under the direction of Mrs. Saunders successfully presented Friday morning broadcasts entitled "Marshall Unlimited" which consisted of sports announcements, special events, and music.

Along with the pleasure gained in presenting these programs, extensive knowledge in production management, engineering sound effects, script writing, and acting was acquired.

The Sports Announcers aimed to create school spirit and encourage large attendance at all athletic events through radio and assembly announcements.

junior band and orchestra

The members of the Junior Band worked hard this year to prove their fitness for their ultimate goal — Senior Band. They played in assemblies under the leadership of Ray Mueller, student conductor, and did a fine job in the spring concert. The officers this year were as follows: President—Bob Schneider, Vice-President—James McCulloch, Secretary-Treasurer—David Nash, and Uniforms—Ray Mueller.

The orchestra completed an interesting year playing at the Senior Play, graduation, and the annual Spring Concerts. Special concerts presented at five grammar schools gave added experience to the group.

The credit for the orchestra's success goes to the director, Mr. Roy Thrall, whose interest in the organization provided the incentive to work hard.

Under the direction of Mr. Roy S. Thrall the John Marshall Senior Band, ninety-seven strong, gave us another year of superb performances, including several school concerts, many outside dates, music at every assembly, and precision marching at football games and the Memorial Day Parade. The officers for this year were William Humm, President; Mary Newton, Vice-President; Frank LoPresti, Secretary-Treasurer; William Kruger, Librarian; and George Higgins, Student Conductor.

The Divine Flora, selected by a committee of student officers, aided by the director, was cast from sixty or more students who volunteered for try-outs. Choices for the roles were made by the students themselves. Selecting the play and casting it were preliminary to five weeks of daily rehearsals (from three to five o'clock) and two evening dress rehearsals. Drama students assisted with the make-up and the properties. The stage crew devised an ingenious setting for the prologue and arranged an attractive seaside living room with backings to suggest sky and sea for the main action. The climax to weeks of cooperative effort was furnished by an appreciative audience of students and parents.

James Lid harber Once again the John Marshall pitchmen battled their way to an undefeated season and a sectional crown. Although losing several veterans from last year's champs, the Gerace coached boys didn't have too much trouble taking their fourth straight city and sectional crown.

> Outstanding for the jurists were the VanDyke brothers, Loyal, "Bill", and "Bob" For their great play they were named to the city All Scholastic team. Other players contributing to the cause were Gordon Jewett, Allen Wheeler, and Richard 'Dick' Chamberlain in the backfield, Robert "Bob" Bock, and Richard "Dick" Schlosser on the line and Edward Caress in the goal.

> The final game against Brighton went into over time period before "Bob" Van-Dyke's kick found its mark in the Brighton goal to give us the win and the crown.

Much of the credit goes to the ever popular Coach Gerace for his fine job.

Coach Davis

The 1953 version of the John Marshall Football Team proved to be the best in the last ten years. Not only was the over all record of 3 wins and 3 losses the best in a decade, but the team showed fine spirit and fight. The jurists split the first four games, beating Fairport 25-20, trouncing Dansville 33-0 and losing to Charlotte 19-6 and Jeff 20-7. The fifth game saw the gridmen pull out a 12-7 verdict over West. The final game of the season saw the jurists lose a heartbreak 21-20 loss to Madison after leading for 3 quarters.

The individual standouts for Marshall were "Big Don" Axon, whose stellar line play netted him an All-Scholastic berth; and "Dick" Lewis and John Marvin, both of whom made second team.

The team was ably coached by Coach Davis with assistants, Mr. Butz and Mr. Stewart.

It's hats off to the hill and dale men and their new coach, Mr. Guglin. The Cross Country team brought home the first city and sectional crown ever to be won by such a team at Marshall. They swept through the city competition and at the sectionals in Geneva. The boys really showed their teamwork and they bested 13 teams to win the crown. Among the early finishers at all the meets were: Captain, Robert Easton; "Jack" VanDuser; Karl Hawes; Philip Corwin; Ronald Hauck; David Phillips; George Higgins; David Jacox; and Robert Cairns.

The 1953 cinder-men, under the watchful eye of Mr. Davis, managed to take eighth place in the league standing. The team had several individual standouts. Richard Holzschuh in the shot put; Douglas VanPutte and Ronald Hauck in the "880"; Ronald VanPutte and Kenneth Mansfield in the "440";

DeWitt "Dee" Kirchmeier in the pole vault; and Robert Easton in the "mile"; all were constant winners and runnersup. "Ron" VanPutte, "Doug" VanPutte, "Dee" Kirchmeier, and Conrad "Connie" Russell won places in the sectionals.

varsity basketball

Our 1953-1954 basketball squad showed improvement over the 1952-1953 team by gathering enough pointage to scrape up five wins but dumping too many points causing thirteen losses.

The two top scorers of the twenty game series proved to be William "Moose" Schaeffer, and Larry Sklenar with 212 and 171 points respectively.

Through the loss of Donald Axon after the first half of the season, Bernard Prendergast earned a well-deserved starting berth and completed the year with a total of 92 points. The other two able starters were Charles Weaver, who maintained a superb set shot, and William Hicks who possessed the forever-accurate side line hits.

reserve basketball

The reserve basketball team, coached by Mr. Carrol, drove to seven wins in eleven games, and placed third in the Reserve League. There were two heartbreak losses to Madison by a score of 61-59 and Paul Revere by a score of 60-59, which cost the "Jurist J.V.'s" the crown. The team was led by the consistent scoring of Gary Niedermeir, Robert Parsons, and Philip Kron; and by the smooth floor play of Ray Axon, Arnold Pommerening, and Robert Simpson.

Marshall had a successful year for bowling. The boys' league was coached by Mr. Zona. Dave Barclay led the team with the highest average.

Every Tuesday, after school, the girls enjoyed bowling at Domm's Bowling Alleys under the direction of Miss O'Connor. This year the girls joined a national league. Bowling was one of the most popular of the girls' sports.

The Marshall swimming team, under the coaching of Tony Gerace, has done remarkably well this year. The finmen won 5 meets and lost two meets. The defeats were suffered at the hands of Franklin and Edison.

Special credit for the team's success went to cocaptains Gordon Jewett and Roger Rhodes, both of whom ranked among the city's sectional champions. Conrad Russel, Gordon French, Ronald De-Bock, Norman Files, Dick Davis, Bill Butler, Roger Bargainnier, Larry Alman, Dick Mayfield, Butch VanDyke, Fred Stegeman, and Charles Donner have been consistent winners.

The 1953 Baseball team, led by the all-scholastic pitching of "Sammy" Farah, achieved a league record of four wins and four losses and one non-league loss. The season's first game with West was one of the longest ever witnessed in high school ball in Rochester. The West men edged out a 7-6 victory in the long, II inning duel. The highlight of the season was Farah's one hitter against Charlotte in which "Sam" won his own game with the winning run. The team was bolstered by the timely hitting of Ronald Harter and the able backstopping of William VanDyke. The team was coached under the skillful eye of Mr. Bushnell.
